

2010 PARTICIPANT FEEDBACK

ubc/uw summer institute in sustainability

I've been involved in sustainability education and environmental citizenship for 6 years and this week has been amazingly valuable! If I could summarize the week, it's been all about connecting the dots. Eye-opening! Informative! Inspiring!

* * * * *

I'm leaving feeling like I got a real sense of how big the sustainability conversation truly is, yet not overwhelmed. There is so much opportunity here to make a difference. I am excited to go home and share what I've learned.

* * * * *

The Institute has re-confirmed my commitment to sustainability and reassured me that I can make a difference and that there are many other people facing the same challenges as me. I also gained some very useful, practical ideas for advancing sustainability at my organization.

* * * * *

I came hoping for some ideas on writing an energy policy and achieving some organizational efficiency. I am leaving with a comprehensive arsenal of frameworks, strategies, principles and vision.

* * * * *

An engaging, educational, inspiring course with excellent content and second-to-none speakers. A must for all involved in the sustainability field – and for those who are not!

* * * * *

This institute exceeds expectations on every level. The program content offers integrated, interdisciplinary strategies and understandings that provide a baseline for the individual and organizational journeys toward a sustainable vision and experience.

* * * * *

[The Institute facilitator] was brilliant at providing thoughtful insights and take-aways from each session, and asking probing questions that challenged speakers and participants.

* * * * *

I have a renewed sense of urgency to spread the word, improve my knowledge, build engagement and create awareness of the many issues and initiatives surrounding this area.

* * * * *

The Institute has not only increased my awareness, but has also deepened my resolve to be an agent of change.

* * * * *

This program is an opportunity to interact with people from different places, studies, and work contexts, helping you realize the complexity of achieving a sustainable future and also the diversity of ways of contributing to the purpose. Thank you!

* * * * *

Without a doubt, I would absolutely recommend that others participate. This has been a phenomenal experience.

* * * * *

I would recommend [this Institute] to anyone interested in progressive leadership and management roles. The quality of presenters and content was outstanding.